Behind the Scenes at “BBC On-Line”

Lights, Sound, Camera Action! Well no it's not quite Pinewood or Elstree but nevertheless the BBC York Road studios are putting the gospel message on line for all to see.

Since the first “You Tube” internet broadcast on Sunday the 22nd March each of the seven services has increased in professionalism and content.

With pre-recorded inserts from members of the church family it has become an integrated worship service and a pivotal highlight of the week for many of us.

So if you are missing out our service goes out on You Tube at 10.30am every Sunday morning until further notice.

The services, presented of course by our pastor Tim Gamston now incorporates worship music (with kind permission from Sovereign Grace Music), prayer, a reading, a sermon and closes with a blessing.

The whole process is a real team effort with unseen pre, during and post production heroes ensuring that things run smoothly and all are informed about timing and internet links.

Our sincere thanks go to Pastor Tim, to Lis Webb our communicator extraordinaire, to Ed Gamston for his production co-ordination skills, to the church family Bible readers and to Peter Rudland for post service editing and production of CD's and DVD's. We are all very grateful – please keep it going.
